Quick Reference Cheat Sheet · A4 Printable

Tech & Software · Sheet #1

Term	Stands For	What It Means	How Traders Use It
BOS	Break of Structure	Price breaks a swing high/low	Confirms trend continuation
CHOCH	Change of Character	First break against the trend	Early reversal signal
FVG	Fair Value Gap	Imbalance between candles	Price often returns to fill it
OB	Order Block	Last opposing candle before a move	Entry zone on retest
Liquidity	Liquidity	Stops clustered above/below price	Price hunts stops before reversing
Sweep	Liquidity Sweep	Price grabs stops then reverses	False breakout signal
Mitigation	Mitigation Block	Price revisits an order block	Entry on the retest
IDM	Inducement	Minor high/low that lures traders	Trap before the real move
Premium	Premium Zone	Upper half of a dealing range	Sell zone
Discount	Discount Zone	Lower half of a dealing range	Buy zone
Equilibrium	Equilibrium (50%)	Middle of a dealing range	Balance point
MSS	Market Structure Shift	Break that changes the trend	Confirms a reversal

PRO TIP: Structure first, entries second: A fair value gap or order block means nothing without the market structure around it. Mark the BOS and CHOCH first, then look for entries.
