Calrose / Medium-Grain Rice	No	1.25 Cups Water per 1c	18 min	Moist, tender, clings slightly together
Parboiled / Converted Rice	No	2 Cups Water per 1c	20 min	Firm, separated grains; almost impossible to overcook

■ INSTANT POT PRESSURE COOKING TIMES FOR RICE

Rice Variety	Rice-to-Water Ratio (IP)	High Pressure Time	Natural Release (NPR)	Final Texture
White Long-Grain / Jasmine	1 cup rice : 1 cup water	4 minutes	10 minutes NPR	Fluffy, perfect grains
Basmati Rice	1 cup rice : 1 cup water	4 minutes	10 minutes NPR	Fragrant, separate grains
Brown Rice (Short or Long)	1 cup rice : 1.25 cups water	22 minutes	10 minutes NPR	Tender yet firm bite
Wild Rice Blend	1 cup rice : 1.25 cups water	25 minutes	15 minutes NPR	Chewy and open grains
Arborio (Risotto - No Stir!)	1 cup rice : 2.5 cups stock	6 minutes	Quick release (Stir in butter)	Creamy risotto without 30m stirring

CHEF'S PRO TIP: When cooking rice in an Instant Pot, the golden rule is equal parts rice and water (1:1 ratio) for white rice, because electric pressure cookers lose almost zero steam during the pressurized cooking cycle.
GRAIN & PASTA GOLDEN STANDARD: Always salt boiling water generously • Never rinse cooked hot pasta unless making cold salad • Rest rice covered off heat for 10 minutes.
